5. Annual Staff Report, Parks & Trails, PPT Shown -

Supervisor Ron Vinluan presented on the Parks and Trails program to the San Marcos Parks & Recreation Commission. Ron gave an overview on the ranger, caretaker, and volunteer ranger programs. He reported on items including newly hired part time rangers, new equipment recently acquired, and changes made to the Nature Center staff and caretaker job descriptions. Ron also reported on challenges the ranger program faces including limited staff for the increasing number of parks, trails, and events. Ron gave a summary of events over the last year and upcoming events as well as the San Diego County Parks and Recreation Champions Award with finalist Commissioner Travis Lindsay.

Chair Franklin informed staff that there are Federal Grant Opportunities for National Trails Day.

6. Smoke Free Parks –

Holly Malan Parks & Recreation Program Manager presented to the Commission a report of a one year review of smoking in designated areas only ordinance passed by City Council in 2008-09. The discussion in the report was based on the reduction of litter; the conclusion of the report was that the NO Smoking in Parks Except in Designated Areas education of park users proved to be working. Holly also provided a list showing the designated smoking areas at parks.

Director Buck Martin stated that the City of San Marcos is one of six other cities in the County that still allows smoking in the parks and says it's a challenge for other cities as well. If the Parks & Recreation Commission would like to make a recommendation to City Council to make San Marcos parks completely smoke free, a report will be made and presented to the City Manager and then reported to City Council. Buck Martin stated that the Department has recently added more rangers to make more of a presence and they will need to go through the enforcement program before they can start giving citations. Internally, staff will be more aggressive on the enforcement side.

7. Youth Sports Council, June 5, 2018 -

Chair Franklin was present at the Youth Sports Council meeting and reported items discussed.

Chair Franklin first commended Eric Leichliter and Taylor Oshinski for doing an awesome job organizing and keeping the YSC meeting on task.

He also reported a discussion about bait stations and other pest control in parks and asked who is responsible for that. The YSC minutes note that any request for pest control must go through the City who will then coordinate and approve any requested pest control services.

Also SM United stated they were not satisfied with Tegriscape services during a tournament. Director Buck Martin and James Daza have been in touch with the sports group and will contact Public Works to get more information to find a remedy for the situation.

8. Trails Advisory Committee Meeting, June 6, 2018 -

Isaac Hernandez and Chair Franklin were present at the Trails Advisory Committee meeting and reported on items discussed.

Chair Franklin touched on the Trails Day attendance numbers and federal grant opportunities for trails day that was also discussed in Ron Vinluan's report.

He also had concerns on Item 2 trail markers – New Way Finding signs, and kiosk designs. QR codes are proposed to be used on trails where there might not be internet connections, making this ineffective.

9. Special Events List & Social Media Posts – Chair Franklin moved to item 7

Program Manager Holly Also gave a quick update on the Fourth of July fundraising efforts. She thanked Commissioners for participating in the fundraising efforts and invited Commissioner Hernandez to the next fundraising meeting. Holly reported the Go Fund Me donations of $3,585 and a total amount of $23,378 as of this afternoon.

Darren Chamow explained the change in statistics for social media posts. In the past the Communications Department had been compiling social media post statistics by hand which was time consuming for staff. The Parks & Recreation Department and Office of Communications found a solution to still get the information needed without consuming too much staff time. The most popular posts from Facebook, Instagram, and or Twitter will be printed and presented to Commission at the monthly meetings. It will show the actual post along with the amount of likes and or comments or shares.

6. Smoking in Parks Policy – Moved to item 5

Director Buck Martin summarized community concerns presented by Club Live at the May and June Commission meeting, current city policy regarding smoking in designated areas, staff response to the concerns, and follow up plans. Mr. Martin sent a memo to City Manager Jack Griffin, outlining the presentations provided by Club Live as well as a brief history of the smoking in parks issue. The memo also listed the steps staff planned to take over the next six months:

- Increase enforcement of the current smoking ordinance via Rangers and other Parks and Recreation Staff.
- Work with the Office of Communications to develop an outreach plan aimed at encouraging proper use of public parks and adherence to rules, including designated smoking areas.
- Monitor the results of these steps for approximately six months and then return to the Commission with further recommendations.

Speaker Letty Robles with the San Marcos Prevention Coalition reported information gathered from a survey conducted in San Marcos. The results of the survey showed the main concern of community members is with under aged drinking and smoking/vaping in public areas. Youth and community members support removal of designated smoking areas in the parks as well as the majority surveyed support 100% smoke free parks.

Speaker K.C. Strang, father, San Marcos resident and soccer coach, Executive Director of the San Marcos Prevention Coalition, member of the County of San Diego Behavioral Health Advisory Board, and chairperson of the San Marcos Palomar Health Community Action Council, voiced his support to make all parks in San Marcos smoke free.

He stated that the County of San Diego has a Live Well Initiative that attributes 3 behaviors that result in four diseases that cause over 50% percent of deaths in San Diego. Tobacco use is one of those behaviors. The City of San Marcos is a Live Well Partner and removing the designated smoking areas from our parks fits into this partnership. He is also proud of San Marcos Middle School youth for being brave and bringing this issue forward.

Mr. Strang displayed an example of an electronic cigarette called a "jewel", that is popular with young people. It is used to vape liquid nicotine, but can also be used to vape drugs.

Speaker Jessica Perales with the Vista Community Clinic stated that middle and high school students are purchasing electronic cigarettes in local stores, online and via Snap Chat.

Chair Franklin requested staff to reassess the designated smoking areas and to investigate how other cities are enforcing No Smoking in the parks and what has been working for them.

Communications and Marketing Tools - Special Event, Recurring
Jack's Pond Halloween Spooktacular
2018 3CMA Savvy Awards

PROBLEM/OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

The City of San Marcos' annual Halloween celebration is the stuff good childhood memories are made of. The barn at Jack's Pond Nature Center is transformed into a "spooktacular" wonderland, complete with crafts, games and of course, goodies.

The event is free, to boot. In a city brimming with young families, it should be packed every year. Only it wasn't.

In fact, in 2016 only 61 people showed up.

That was especially disappointing considering that of the city's 95,000 residents, nearly 15 percent are children under the age of 10.

Realizing there was a disconnect, the parks and recreation staff looked to the city's communications officer for some much-needed publicity help.

INTENDED GOALS OR OUTCOMES

With disappointing outcomes from previous years, the city's communications and parks and recreation departments teamed up to set ambitious goals, including:

- 50% increase in event attendance
- Develop public outreach tools for event
- Stay within $500 budget
- Reach at least 20,000 residents on social media

RESEARCH, PLANNING & IMPLEMENTATION

As a first step, the communications office together with Parks and Recreation event team analyzed past attendance patterns. The team saw that nobody came during the later half of the event--perhaps because it competed with bedtime routines. To fix that, the event was bumped up an hour earlier.

In past years, there were show-and-tell nature exhibits. Realizing kids enjoy more hands-on activities, the city worked to make the event more interactive. This was done by creating nature display stations where kids could also trick-or-treat to give fun interaction along the way.

Staff also beefed up the offerings, with more crafts, games and learning activities--each of which provided kids with a few candies and prizes. They also added a photo station, free popcorn and hot chocolate, and enhanced the festive decorations.

Because families were the target audience, the event team began by reaching out to the local school district, which has more than 20,000 students. The district was provided with event information that could easily be passed along to the parents of all those students.

The event team also helped create a staff street team to promote the Halloween celebration at other city events. Naturally, they focused on five of the city's top family-friendly events that would hit their target audience.

For example, the team had a table at a community 10K expo--and this race event featured a kids' fun run where schools were competing for the most attendance, so it was an ideal opportunity to reach those young families. The team was also at the fire department open house, an annual event that draws more than 10,000 people, many of them children and their parents.

Promotional flyers were created to be handed out during all these events. Center median street banners were also placed in the city's major thoroughfares and ads were placed in the city's recreation guide and quarterly newsletter, which is distributed to 30,000 residents.

As a final step, the communications office went directly where thousands of local mothers and fathers go everyday: Facebook.

By creating a Facebook event page and a series of playful posts, the communications team was able to hook the target audience. The Facebook event page was viewed nearly 2,000 times and more than 500 people submitted an online RSVP.

In addition, Facebook posts promoting the event reached more than 13,000 people. And Instagram posts promoting the event reached nearly 700 people--which is especially significant considering the city only has a total of 1,500 Instagram followers.

RESULTS & EVALUATION

As the Halloween celebration neared, parks and recreation staff was hopeful they might double--maybe even triple--their attendance.

On the big day, people started coming. And they kept coming.

Ultimately 346 people joined the celebration. That is a staggering 467 percent growth in attendance, far surpassing goals set. The event also exceeded social media reach and engagement goals by 118 percent (see page 5.)

Understandably, parks and recreation staff was highly impressed with the power of publicity.

"By working together, rethinking the event and upping our outreach game, the event was a huge hit this year," said the event's coordinator Kylee Wideman. "Running out of candy would be my worst fear but fortunately, I was prepared for the masses."

"This event is a perfect example the success that is possible when departments work together" said Parks and Recreation Director Buck Martin. "Not only did we work together to make the event more exciting for our residents but we made sure they knew about a free opportunity to have some Halloween fun right in their own community."

What's more, the experience proved to be a powerful a-ha moment for city staff. Now seeing the undeniable success of public outreach, more have started to seek out the communications officer for help.

It is safe to say that thanks to well executed communications strategy, Jack's Pond Halloween Celebration is now on the fast track to becoming a fall-time favorite in San Marcos, and rightfully so.

BUDGET AND USE OF OUTSIDE RESOURCES

Sarah Macdonald, City of San Marcos communications officer served as project manager for the outreach campaign and Parks and Recreation staff oversaw event logistics, including innovating activities and restructuring event times. All work for this project was completed in-house. No outside resources were used.

The total event budget was $500, including supplies and Facebook promotions. With 346 attendees, the cost breaks down to approximately $1.44 per person.
